

* No clear HSE advice for this scenario. If no PCR is expected then reasonable action is to proceed as if the initial case was PCR confirmed but add a few days to your restriction period (to mimic the few days it usually takes for PCR + close contact notification)